ACRYLIC VENEERS AND BRIDGEWORK

by

NU-DENT

The opaque porcelain core of our porcelain-lined acrylic jackets offers an ideal cementing medium and base upon which to build up the acrylic shades. It permits use of Nu-Dent's beautiful life-like translucent shades without possibility of their being affected by the cement used.

Now . . . we have a technique of firing acrylic under dry heat, which gives our newly formulated acrylic a porcelain-like glaze and sheen and greater resistance to wear. Testing laboratory reports establish the fact that Nu-Dent acrylic is 2½ times as resistant to wear as other present day acrylics.

Only Nu-Dent's technique for Porcelain-Enamel Lined Acrylic Veneers and Bridgework involves masking the gold by baking the porcelain enamel to it. Because of this chemical bond, there can be no breaking away from the gold. Seepage and discoloration are permanently eliminated . . . the acrylic veneer maintains its beautiful color permanently.

Nobilium

..... Partial denture construction has come a long way in a hundred years. "The finest" cases in 1859 (restoring from 1 to 13 teeth!) were "efficient and useful substitutes for natural teeth." Some "practical examples" are shown at the top of the page... Some of the problems (which, of course, had not at that time been solved) were the heavy weight of the swaged gold, the bulk and rigidity of clasps, accurate adaptation, cleanliness, comfort and esthetics . . .

Today, Nobilium partials provide all of the qualities that please patients, assure functional perfection, ease of mastication, real oral comfort, life-like appearance—in other words complete mouth happiness. Nobilium research, constant progress in developing and improving equipment, materials and techniques plus experience and skill can be depended upon for "the finest possible partials" today . . . and in the future. What I Expect from My Career in Dentistry

Jack Drandell, San Francisco, California

(This prize essay was the winner of the Chicago Dental Society Centennial Essay contest for dental students throughout the country. The contest was based on the theme, "What I Expect of Dentistry as a Career," and had for its purpose the following criteria: First, to stimulate these young men to write; second, to create a more active interest in the affairs of the American Dental Association, and third, to crystallize in their minds their purpose for being members of our great profession. The Society sponsored this contest to especially commemorate the centennial birthday of the American Dental Association. We could think of no better way to begin a second century of service than to obtain from the young men who will begin their careers, an expression of their hopes, aspirations and visions of a life of service in dentistry.

This we think Jack Drandell, an undergraduate of the University of California Dental School in the field of orthodontics, a specialty he expects to follow in the Los Angeles area, has done. Jack received his B.S. degree from Southern Methodist University and since 1947 has worked in the field of engineering until he chose dentistry as a profession. He is married and has two children. Photography is his main hobby. Jack is 34 years old and therefore represents a more mature understanding than the average undergraduate. In his essay he has expressed the ideals and aspirations of our founding fathers for a free and unfettered dental health service.—E.M.E.)

What an individual expects from a career depends upon his motivations, the efforts expended and hope. Those seeking a dental career are obviously expending a great deal of effort and there is hope that the future will unfold their best expectations. This paper will cover my expectations and, of necessity then, display my motivations for pursuing a dental career.

Dentistry as a career can offer much to anyone who but stops to study the advantages of this profession. The standard phrases that apply to dentistry as to almost all professions are: achievement in helping your fellow man, easing pain, sound standing in a community through a comfortable living, the prestige of a title and many others. But these are statements that apply in varying degrees to a carpenter or a physician, a grocer or a lawyer, a plumber or a dentist. Although this paper will cover some of these advantages it will deal with other factors frequently overlooked.

Most often dentists are graduated after pursuing a course of education that begins immediately after high school and terminates with a D.D.S. These days there is sometimes a break for military service, but essentially the course of events runs as stated above. This means, then, that most dentists select their career in high school, graduate from dental school and enter practice without the experiences of any other profession. The expectations in this instance are related to what they have seen or heard about dentistry and their own personal desires. Too often these are entirely monetary. This approach to the profession is obviously different from someone who was a member of another profession or someone who had experiences other than in dentistry. Since I have had more than one experience before turning to dentistry, my outlook to the subject will be somewhat different and there will be more emphasis on certain advantages of dentistry that are usually glossed over or omitted.

First of all, as I see it, I will appreciate dentistry as a profession. This is I know, an odd approach, but none the less true. Even now as a Junior dental student, its many advantages become more evident. The basic aspirations I expect to get out of dentistry are tied in with an obvious liking for what I am now doing and hope to do later in private practice.

To begin with, a basic result I hope to get out of dentistry is independence. It is often glossed over in reports on the advantages of a dental career, but I feel it is one of the fundamental values of the profession. I believe it is best exemplified by the reactions of my former employers upon hearing of my plans to leave their employment. I might say my last employment was with one of the largest and most respected industrial giants in the United States. After explaining my reasons for leaving the company, there were no arguments in trying to dissuade me, but rather a pride that one of their employees was striking out "on his own." If my reasons for leaving were to seek a legal or medical degree or to enter business for myself, the reactions would have been the same. But if I had resigned to go to another job, whether in the same industry or not, there would not have been the extreme cordiality, continuing friendship and sincere best wishes that did occur. For the advantages of another job would have been slight in the eyes of my employers and are not on the same plane as becoming a true professional man. I have found that most people respect you and wish you the best for getting out on your own. As one executive once put it: to go from one job to another, no matter how great an improvement, is still moving within the "job" arena, but to start from scratch to gain one's own business or profession, represents something bigger and more courageous, than moving into another job. It seems that almost all men have a hidden dream of being on their own—it is in fact the American dream of making your own way, independent and standing on your own two feet. The basis for this country's growth and expansion is due to people who desire independence, who want no taskmaster but themselves and who ventured into new enterprises. The thought of striking out on one's own is truly an American ideal and has proven the magic hope for the millions of immigrants who make up this country.

Possibly this feeling toward independence is not shared by many members of the dental profession, especially those whose experience is limited entirely to dentistry. As I have observed, many dentists who complain of dentistry's disadvantages are those who have never experienced the disadvantages of other professions. Those few who were once associated in other fields, I have found, are far more appreciative of their dental careers. In the final analysis it is only by comparison that one can best judge a situation. It is often disconcerting to me to talk to a dentist who complains of the dental profession only as hard work and relatively poor pay. To them I say that truly dentistry is not an easy profession and the remuneration is not meant to make one wealthy, but in the vast world outside dentistry, jobs are also hard work, poor pay and a boss to put up with forevermore.

a fascinating story of an underwater search for sunken treasure.

Monthly Program Chairman

NEW DOPE ON OLD GOLD!

A RARE TREAT is in store for the ever-growing group of faithful movie fans who have formed the habit of arriving at the Society's monthly meetings at 7:00 p.m. to catch the early, early show. The film scheduled for showing before the meeting of the Society on Tuesday, May 19th is so popular that it is available to us only by special permission of the Hiram Walker Company, Inc. which is allowing the Society to use a personal copy of the film belonging to a firm official.

The film is the new Canadian Club sound and color picture "Secret Cargo." It was first suggested to the Motion Picture Committee by Dr. Joseph C. Ullis, our Director from the Northwest Side Branch.

"Secret Cargo" is a completely authentic adventure of diving from a magnificent schooner in search of untold treasure beneath the sea. There are scenes of beauty, excitement and danger in waters inhabited by sharks, barracudas and moray eels. Romance and treasure hunting are as old as civilization and scarcely a sun sets without their making striking headlines. There is still, right now, this very minute an estimated total of from 300 to 500 billions in precious metals at the bottom of the sea—a fair target for any hardy soul who can find it and drag it to the surface! But don't sell your practice and start out until you've seen "Secret Cargo" and see how it's done.

That's at the Conrad Hilton, 7:00 p.m. on the 19th of May. Second showing at 7:30. Both showings in color.

This feature is one of a series broadcast on the first Wednesday evening of every month and is a public service contribution by the station in the interest of dental health.

Dr. Yale will be interviewed, at 9:15 p.m. on May 6, on the subject of radiation with special emphasis on the fact that dental x-rays are not only not harmful but most important to good dentistry.

DENTURIST BILL DEFEATED IN NEVADA

A third state has defeated a public denturist bill, when a bill to permit laboratory technicians to deal directly with the public was defeated by failure to reach the floor of the Nevada Legislature. Similar bills were introduced in the legislatures of Georgia and Washington and were defeated. Only Oklahoma has a bill pending and it was reported out of committee without recommendation. As an aftermath of the Georgia failure to pass, two officials of the Independent Laboratory Association were found guilty of illegal practice of dentistry and were fined $250.00 with suspended three-year sentences. The cases were brought by the State Board of Dental Examiners.

REHABILITATION GROUP MEETING

The Midwest Oral Rehabilitation Study Group will have its next meeting at Northwestern University Dental School on May 23rd and 24th.—M. J. Sondell, Chairman.

The Dental Committee of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division incorporated has arranged a day-long symposium on oral cancer for Friday, June 5, 1959. Registration for the symposium is free to all dentists and starts at 9:00 a.m. Those in attendance will be the guests of the Cancer Society at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Prudential Building at luncheon. STEPHENS PRESENTED WITH PLAQUE

The Illinois State Dental Society presented to Mr. Edgar T. Stephens, Program Director of the State Society's Legislation and Law Enforcement Program, a plaque which reads, in part, "This testimonial in recognition of his untiring services in the field of protecting the health of the public through the law enforcement activities during the year 1958." The plaque was presented in Peoria on April 2 before the annual meeting of the Component Officers and Editors of the Illinois State Dental Society and the Branch Officers and Editors of the Chicago Dental Society.

We are all most appreciative of Mr. Stephens' efforts toward enforcing the Dental Practice Act and in the field of legislative activity. We would, however, like to take this opportunity to again point out the fact that no one person; no group of officers and directors, or one committee alone can do the vast amount of personalized work that is necessary to achieve lasting success in these relationships. These are areas where each member must do his own share of the job, when he is asked or urged and just where he is assigned. If you are asked to write your representative, or to call upon him, please do so at once.

DENTISTS TO BE ENTERTAINED BY HYGIENISTS

On Thursday, May 14, at Younker's Restaurant, the Illinois Dental Hygienists Association is holding a "Doctors' Meeting." As it is a social evening, our own "Winthrop Players" are doing the entertainment which has all the promise of a very successful Broadway production.

New members are cordially invited to attend.—Sue Maloney.

NORTH SIDE GOLF OUTING

The annual golf outing and dinner of the North Side Branch of the Chicago Dental Society will take place on June 17th at Glendale Country Club. A well-rounded day of golf and fun, with exciting prizes, topped by a delectable dinner, is in store for all who attend.

SOUTH SUBURBAN EXTENDS THANKS TO UPJOHN

On behalf of the twenty-six dentists and their wives, members of the South Suburban Branch of the Chicago Dental Society, we wish again to publicly thank the personnel of the Upjohn Company of Kalamazoo, Michigan for their hospitality, interest, food, lodging, entertainment, and educational tour through their research, manufacturing and packaging of pharmaceuticals plants during March 18, 19 and 20. It was a most pleasant trip, long to be remembered.—Clarence E. Folkers, Chairman of Tours.

Englewood

Joseph E. Plewa, who did a bang-up job as the membership chairman—'58 and '59, has been honored by the members of his Branch by being elected the incoming President; despite the fact that he was opposed by a so-called coalition group in the Englewood Branch. When more than one candidate runs for office it is a very healthy sign—competition is good for all of us. Congratulations to a swell guy—Englewood is one of the top Branches and we expect Joe to keep it up there. By the way, did you know that Joe Plewa is also a fine artist? Saw one of his studies of the Sand Dunes area and liked it very much. . . . Saw a lot of new faces at the meeting, which was very well attended, i.e.; Stanley Blair, Boles Gobby, T. A. and T. B. Gasior, Frank Pelka, John Dziubski, Ted Bresden, Ed Spanski, and Andy Potempa. . . . One of our members, Edward C. Wach, an Illinois University Alumnus, has launched a permanent endowment. It will be known as the Edward C. Wach Dental Research Fund and has been established at the U. of I. College of Dentistry. . . . George Runyan spoke at a Diet and Nutrition Conference at the Lake Shore Athletic Club on April 18 and 19. . . . Henry Mathews was in Wisconsin recently, visiting his brother. . . . A retreat was sponsored by Vince Milas, several of our members attended. . . . Bud Hopkins will be representing us in the Archer Division at the Pan American Games this year. . . . Lew Weil is glad that Dave Zasser, Sam Rabishaw, and Lou Horevitz are back from their vacations, he missed their study club programs. . . . Don't know which role suits him better—Prexy of C.D.S. or Corporal in the Salvation Army, but you can bet he does a bang-up job of both. Harold Hayes was a member of the Beverly University Club's pluperfect production of Guys and Dolls, April 10, 11, and 12. Beaming with pride in their families who took part in Guys and Dolls also were Tom Fleming and yours truly. . . . South Suburban

The date is June 4th; the place, Chicago Heights Country Club. That is the factual data of our annual golf outing. The costs involved are $3.00 for greens fees and $4.00 for a very hearty and substantial dinner. . . . The way it looks as of now, we will not be having a Spring Dance as not enough of the membership have indicated their willingness to attend to make up a minimum of twenty-five persons. Some of the fellows are planning an informal get-together at some place like the Martinique. . . . LeRoy Rowland was presented with a memento at our last meeting in recognition of his outstanding service in behalf of our South Suburban Group of which he is one of the charter members. A pleasant surprise was the presence of two of his classmates of N.U. 1918, Jack Moran and our speaker of the evening, Dr. Arthur Elfenbaum. . . . We had introduced to us our latest new member, John Coughlin, who is practicing in Homewood. Last but not least a unanimous ballot was cast for the slate of officers for the coming year: President, H.

Cubbon; President-elect, M. Bardige; Vice-president, H. Cibock; Treasurer, L. Holt; Secretary, T. Case. . . . On the lighter side, Al Tantillo showed up with a healthy coat of tan he acquired on his recent trip to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. Sid Bayer is going around with a peculiar gleam in his eye talking about his recent experiences in Mexico. Dave Torch is finally getting all the parts of his foreign sport's car to work together so he can enjoy driving. . . . Will give you all a report on our trip to Eli Lilly which to date has about 70 men and their wives signed up. . . . That's all for now.—H. C. Gornstein, Branch Correspondent.

Northwest Side

The last regular meeting of the spring season on April 7th was a huge success judging by the turnout of the members. As you know it was to be the old timers' get-together meeting. Among those present we were happy to see Bob Placek who recently returned from Montego Bay, also present were Glenn Lahr, T. E. Johnson, and Ben Gillmeister. Jim Mershimer, another one of our old timers who was present, has now left on his yearly jaunt to Florida for his vacation. Not only did we have old timers present but we also had three new members whom we welcome to our branch,—They are Joseph Gonzales, Steve Kakos, and John Zelin. A mention must be made of Dr. Elfenbaum's wonderful talk on Diagnosis at this meeting. The membership received his presentation with enthusiasm and interest and many nice comments were made about it. Since this was the last meeting of the spring season it is very fitting to commend Lee Schwartz for his excellent programming at all our past meetings. Lee has worked long, hard and diligently to bring us the best speakers and it was a job well done. . . . Sincere condolences are extended to Rudy Basile and family whose father recently passed away. . . . I understand that Vic Griseto is back in town after an extended visit to Arizona. . . . Congratulations to Warren Eggers who had his birthday on Easter Sunday. By way of a gift he was presented with his first granddaughter (Carol Jean Eggers) on his birthday. Also he is moving into his new offices directly across the street from his old office. . . . We have a new orthodontist on the Northwest side, Dr. Ernest W. Garling who recently moved into his new office at 6416 W. Higgins Road, tel. Sp 4-1944. The Northwest side certainly welcomes and wishes Dr. E. Garling much success. . . . It is with regret that we must announce that Dr. Teuscher will not be available for the installation of officers on Ladies' Nite on Wednesday, May 20th. He has been put on the program for the Wisconsin meeting and therefore will not be available. The committee has promised that there will be a substitute for Dr. Teuscher on that night. Please do not forget Ladies' Nite on Wednesday May 20th as this is an annual event to which the whole branch looks forward. The tickets are still available so please call Joe Cantafio Ne 2-3311, for tickets to a gala event which both wives and sweethearts will enjoy.—Chester L. Jasick, Branch Correspondent.

West Side

The last official meeting of the year saw the installation of our new officers by venerable Sam Rakow; a lively discussion of hospitalization insurance, and an excellent program by the Johnson Twin-Wire Study Club of Milwaukee. The program consisted of a three-part delivery of information, slides, and practical demonstrations of a simple twin-wire orthodontic appliance that can easily be used by the general practitioner to correct many types of malocclusion. Dr. R. E. Wittig presented an enthusiastic introduction to the subject; Dr. B. Rein presented the appliance itself and showed how it was constructed; and Dr. G. Dowe showed his Kodachrome slides of actual cases and how they progressed. Following this, all three men set up tables and further demonstrated other details of the appliances and study models of cases. All three men are to be commended on a very fine program and the Milwaukee Dental Society should be praised for having such enthusiastic dentists. I should add that these men were also astounded at the fine reception they received and amazed at the genuine interest shown by our West Side members. . . . Adolph Stark asked for a vote of thanks to the outgoing officers for the very fine job they have done. . . . Lou Holzman, our new President, made his initial speech of acceptance and vowed to continue the good work started by his predecessors. . . . A new member of the West Side Branch, Dr. Allan Fred Goldberg of Illinois Research, was officially welcomed by Andy Kelleher. . . . Dr. William Gubbins is at Mayo Clinic undergoing treatment for a serious ailment. We want him to know that all of us are concerned and wish him a speedy recovery. . . . As you should know by now, our annual golf outing and dinner will be held at Bartlett Hills. A luscious steak dinner will be served and will cost only $5, and golf will be $3. Come for either or both and you will have a wonderful time. The time is anytime Wednesday, May 20th, but come early and enjoy the whole day. . . . Adolph Stark made a suggestion concerning the membership certificate you have from the Chicago Dental Society. Please display it so that your patients can see it. The public relations and publicity activities of the Chicago Dental Society will be increased, and the displaying of your certificate will help. . . . Today's Personality Highlight is Leo Cahill, great sportsman, golfer, world traveler, and bon vivant. Leo has been in practice for over forty years and at one time or another has held every office of our branch and also that of downtown director. Leo has a charming wife and lovely daughter, who by the way is a teacher. Leo has always been a great bulwark of our branch and we all wish him many more golden years with us. . . . Little Known Facts Department—Did you know that Art Tessler is a radio ham operator? . . . or that Bob Tuck has twins. . . . that Chick Vission's son is a bridge expert. . . . or that Al Sells is just learning how to play gin rummy? . . . Now for you members who are seldom mentioned in this column, if ever, it's your own fault. Since we won't have any more meetings until Fall, it will be increasingly harder for me to get news so won't you please call me . . . MA 6-2928 . . . and tell me about your activities, your vacations, and all the little known facts that help us all get to know one another better. . . . Life at best is so very very short, and while obituary notices are news items, we'd rather hear from you before then. . . . Have a nice summer!—Samuel Silver, Branch Correspondent.

North Suburban

The men of the area have been moving around quite a bit in the last month or so, both vacationing and on more serious business. . . . George Krueger will be presenting his talk on immediate dentures at the Atlanta Dental Society meeting on May 16th, and he was also quite enthusiastic in speaking of the 3-day course on Crown and Bridge given in March by the Ney Gold Company of Hartford, Connecticut. . . . We would like to take this opportunity to extend our deepest sympathies to F. A. Hussey, of Waukegan, on the recent death of his wife. . . . I hope by the time this is read that Stevie Stephenson, of Evanston, will be well on the way to recovery from a cerebral accident suffered shortly after he returned from his vacation in April. . . . Speaking of Evanston, a new dental student program has been instituted at Evanston Hospital that should give fledgling dentists from Northwestern University a better insight into the dental problems of hospital patients. It is patterned a little after the medical clerkships offered at the hospital, and although it is only a few days old, I'm sure it is going to be successful. . . . Hal Schelhas tells me he is moving his home to Wilmette, where he will be practically next-door neighbors with C. Mercier, A. L. Swanson, and O. E. Scott. . . . Adrian Swanson is at present off to Florida with his family, but should be back by the 20th of April. Hope he saw some sunshine; the reports on the weather down south have hardly been printable. . . . George Kearns, of Lake Forest, tells me that the two-day meeting of the American Society of Children's Dentistry in April was well worth the trip. They had their meeting at the Wagon Wheel Lodge in Rockton, Illinois, as ideal a spot one could think of for a dental meeting. Also attending, as far as I could learn, were Jane Selbe, Al Altman, and Pinky Stine. . . . I understand that O. K. Johnson, of Waukegan, has been elected to the Public Relations Committee of the American Society of Oral Surgeons, this on top of his nomination to not one, but two, of the important offices of the Lake County Dental Society. . . . It sounds like every man with vacation on his mind has been seeking the sun of late. G. J. Balbach left for Hawaii the latter part of March. . . . Lee Boyd and A. B. Cole took off for Florida together during the latter part of March, but unfortunately Lee had to return suddenly because of the death of his father-in-law. . . . Glenn Jackson, of Highland Park, and other points north, left on the 15th of March for two weeks in Las Vegas, Nevada. His assistant (charming girl), had nothing unusual to report about the visit, so I guess we can presume that he broke no banks. . . . C. L. McArthur, of Winnetka, combined business with pleasure to spend two weeks during March in Florida, where he also attended a dental meeting. . . . The same goes for Russ Johnson, of Glencoe, who attended the Saunders Research Club in Florida on the 15th of March. . . . In the new men department, Dr. Richard L. Woods, of the University of St. Louis, is now in association with Irvin Slavin of Waukegan. This is Dick's first taste of private practice, and I hope it proves successful. . . . Didj'a hear about the absent-minded fellow who billed a patient twice? Seems the patient wasn't too efficient either, and paid it twice. Now what to do?—Ed Sherwood, Assistant Branch Correspondent.

North Side

We are indeed fortunate in having the calibre of men such as we had in our last election, vying for office. Men like Francis Hanagan, Harold Sitron, Maurice Falstein, Ernest Gillis, Stanley Goldberg, Herbert Krummel, Donald Wise, William d'Autremont, Warren Gerber and Robert Kiechler, who are all outstanding men in the profession, all willing to undertake the chores of office. Here's our slate of officers for the coming year: Francis Hanagan, Director; I. H. Shapiro, President; Stanley Goldberg, Vice-President; Herbert Krummel, Secretary; William d'Autremont, Treasurer and Warren Gerber, Librarian. It was a hotly contested campaign and I am very proud of the membership in keeping this campaign on a high and dignified level with only one incentive—"what's good for the Branch". The response to the call for voting was good, with some 45% of the eligible members voting, and although it wasn't a 100% turnout, it is gratifying to see so many men come out between the

DENTAL BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

There has come to the editor's desk a book entitled Dental Biographical Sketches, and it comes at a very opportune time when we celebrate the Centennial Anniversary of the American Dental Association. It contains biographical sketches of many of the men who contributed greatly toward making our profession of dentistry a leading health service. In short, concise form the writer has made live again men like C. E. Kells, Harvey Burkhart, George Snow, Jonathan Taft, Greene Vardiman Black, Solyman Brown and many other pioneers.

May I recommend it for your reading during this centennial year. The cost is $2.00 postpaid and can only be had by direct mail from the Naportan Co., Pittsford, N.Y.

WHAT I EXPECT FROM MY CAREER IN DENTISTRY

Rather than continuing now and discussing any second expectation from dentistry, I shall instead continue with the above, since being your own boss is not the acme of any profession; it goes hand in hand with other values one must have for the total fulfillment of a good career. A most important phase of dentistry and the one from which I expect to receive a great deal of satisfaction is in a job well done. A very common complaint today about our advanced industrial system is that the worker is so far removed from the finished product he cannot associate himself with it. In order to produce any item a vast team effort is required, and the individual's contribution is often quite small no matter how vital. And in the upper echelons of business, the political machinations, the compromises and clashes of personalities often leave little time for creative effort and, finally, if one does see a project through, it is less the handiwork of the individual but more often the result of compromise and politics. Here again the satisfaction of seeing a job through is difficult.

In dentistry, I expect to be able to take a given patient's problems, establish a plan of treatment, compromising if necessary with my own judgment and finally have the satisfaction of seeing the work through to completion, and I hope, to be able to take pride and satisfaction in a job well done. There are very, very few professions where this is possible and dentistry has this tremendous advantage to offer anyone who chooses it for a career.

To diverge just a bit to bring home another most important point, the oral cavity has long been a no-man's land, almost ignored by physicians and save for the teeth, untouched by the dentist. Now as in our training today in such subjects as dental medicine, oral pathology, pharmacology and the like, it offers ever widening vistas of practice to the graduating dentist. This is extremely important in this picture of expectations for I honestly would find dentistry a most boring career in spite of all the good points previously mentioned if it didn't offer a challenge. Since dentistry has advanced from the stage of looking at one tooth at a time to now where treatment consists of taking care of the entire oral cavity, it offers as much challenge as the practitioner wishes to receive. This problem of challenge is highly important for although there is repetition and boredom in almost every job, if it is completely so, life can be unbearable.

In summary, it is obvious I, or any graduating dental student, can expect much from dentistry. Among the secondary factors are a comfortable income, community standing and a very important one in the satisfaction of helping your fellow man. This last item is quite important, but is so often discussed when reference is made to any branch of medicine, that it was not expounded upon in this paper. However, since any dentist must like people, which I do, this advantage was a most important factor in my decision for a dental career. I consider it of prime importance and I expect a lot of satisfaction from helping those who seek me out for dental treatment. As to a comfortable income and community position, I had these before I returned to dental school; what I hope to add are: Independence, pride in my work, the satisfaction of a complete job well done, helping my fellow man and as much challenge to my mental abilities as I care to pursue. I hope to gain all of these from dentistry.

Paul had every detail beautifully worked out in advance so that the entire balloting and counting was smoothly and efficiently handled, and merely proves the wise choice of the Chicago Dental Society in selecting Paul to be the Chairman of the CDS Election Committee. It was a masterful job, well done, Paul. Paul was ably assisted by both Ray Bro and Rube Kadens on his committee and they worked tirelessly all evening and well into the night in the counting room, without the slightest complaint. Our thanks to Jack Langer, Mark Mendelsohn, Murray Hoffman and many, many others who have also worked tirelessly. Thanks, again, fellows. We have a wealth of good material in our branch and it is our intention to see that each man who has the ability and the willingness to become active in the affairs of the branch, has an opportunity to participate. The Board of Directors has asked me to state its position that it is calling an enlarged Board meeting soon to which will be invited as many members as have offered to work together, to plan for a unified approach and cooperative undertaking to make the North Side Branch one of the best branches in the Society.
